

Here's to a Faithful Fall New Beginnings

It seems odd sometimes that so many new beginnings happen in the Fall rather than in January. As I write this article, my family is getting ready to send Timmy back to school. School begins in one week. Timmy will change classes frequently this year and he will have 4 teachers. This is a big change for him and he is pretty nervous. The organization surrounding the schedule of our family will change back to school time. Earlier rising, earlier bedtimes and homework time will once again be part of our regular routine.

Some of you are teachers or work in other capacities at school. Some of you are parents or grandparents and your kids are headed back. Maybe you are trying to squeeze every drop of summer you can and maybe you are busy shopping for clothes and school supplies to make sure your child is all prepared. Maybe you have a child going to college and you are preparing to move them into a dorm in the coming days.

Even if you are not preparing to send yourself or a child to school this year, the changes are obvious. Bible Studies, breakfasts with the Bible, Lunches with the pastor and other things that have been on hiatus will start back up again.

The sunsets will be coming sooner and the sunrises coming later and we will soon become busy trying to get ready for Halloween, Thanksgiving and Christmas. This time of year, we often find ourselves wondering how everything got so busy so quickly.

I have learned that when we can manage to make God a priority even in the midst of the chaos and the clutter, when we can make God a priority we manage to stand with more stability. I would like to invite you to church to enjoy a faithful Fall Season. We look forward to seeing you on Sunday mornings!

God Bless you All,
Pastor Michelle
